

The Lyceum of Monterey County presents

DRAWING SEEDS AND PODS AND BERRIES

with Nina Antze

For nature illustrators, watching a flower go from being pollinated to creating a fruit of some kind gives us another whole world of possibilities of objects to draw. We can incorporate these fruits, capsules, nuts, or pods into our pictures of our flower to add interest and illustrate structure, function and maturity of the flower or we can draw and observe these objects as beauties on their own. Using colored pencil techniques of layering and blending, learn how to mix a variety of rich and interesting browns and grays along with the colors of autumn.

Date: December 6, 2015

Ages: Teen – Adult

Hours: 10:00 am – 12:00 pm,
1:00 pm - 3:00 pm

Location: The Lyceum
1073 Sixth Street

Fee: $60

Monterey, CA 93940

Register at www.lyceum.org or call 831.372.6098

Nina Antze is a Sonoma County botanical artist and quilt maker. She has a degree in Fine Art and a Certificate in Botanical Illustration from the New York Botanical Gardens. She teaches regularly around the Bay Area including the certificate program at Filoli Gardens.